

Coombs Against Brown To-Day---Giants Tie Highlanders in Ten-Inning Game

CUBS FIND GAME SIMPLY A CASE OF TOO MUCH BENDER

(Continued From Fifth Page.)

who dared to try to steal a base on Thomas, and twice he was caught at second by a quick, true throw.

The much-mooted question as to the Athletics' standing up under the strain of the championship series was settled to-day. The infield as a whole did phenomenal work, and again I cannot help but refer to the grand machine-like work of Baker, Barry and Collins.

The Cubs are going to find Mack's infield combination a stumbling block to their ambition to be the world's champions of 1910. While I have mentioned Baker, Barry and Collins particularly, the steady and effective playing of Captain Harry Davis at first must not be overlooked.

Eddie Collins is the real magnetic center of the Athletics, as he is continually stirring the players on. An example of his cunning is his constantly acquitting the outfield with the kind of ball the pitcher will serve up by a thorough code of signals.

Thomas was full of ginger throughout the game. He kept up a line of rapid fire, which in no small way encouraged Bender and the whole team. It seemed to be constantly encouraging the Cubs. Although they had been directed by Manager Chance to wait Bender out in the first part of the game, they soon found that this was disastrous because the Chief's control was superb. They sometimes took as many as two strikes, but Bender would then send that vicious curve over the plate and retire the batter.

Manager Chance was quick to perceive his mistake, and it was noticed that he gave orders to the men to hit it out. It was simply a case of "too much bender."

This game goes to show that the Athletics did not stop to think what a position they were in and get stage fright, slumping away at bad balls and making halfhearted attempts at hitting. They picked out good balls and stepped in and soured them.

Mack Springs Surprise. Coming to Mack's surprise in playing Strunk in the field, although I had picked him several weeks ago to be in the line-up at the start of the season. There has been some secret work going on in regard to the young man up for the series, and when he breaks loose he will make a big name. The Cubs will find it hard to stop him.

The fact that the Mackmen made hits and three runs in the first three innings convinced Manager Chance that it was not one of those days. He decided to send in McIntyre, who pitched side-arm spitball pitcher who pitched side-arm spitballs, and the Athletics down with one hit in the last five innings, this being a terrible drive by the star offensive player of the day, Baker. The Athletics traveled on a line, hitting the right center field wall about six inches from the top. It was a wonderful hit, and every fan present thought of it, and went into Twentieth Street for the show. McIntyre's work was finished and he showed much class. He used a good side-arm curve with a side-arm ball, combined with a peculiar delivery, which greatly aided his effectiveness.

The Cubs seemed to know that defeat was to be their portion after the first inning. I noticed Kling stood in front of the bench, with his chest protector on, with mitt and mask in hand, ready to resume his work. Apparently only one man was out, Johnny, who was hit by a grand slam. A Cub rally was impossible, and it is likely that Chicago knew that Bender's pitching was going to win.

Manager Chance was going to win. The Cubs seemed to know that defeat was to be their portion after the first inning. I noticed Kling stood in front of the bench, with his chest protector on, with mitt and mask in hand, ready to resume his work. Apparently only one man was out, Johnny, who was hit by a grand slam. A Cub rally was impossible, and it is likely that Chicago knew that Bender's pitching was going to win.

The Cubs seemed to know that defeat was to be their portion after the first inning. I noticed Kling stood in front of the bench, with his chest protector on, with mitt and mask in hand, ready to resume his work. Apparently only one man was out, Johnny, who was hit by a grand slam. A Cub rally was impossible, and it is likely that Chicago knew that Bender's pitching was going to win.

The Cubs seemed to know that defeat was to be their portion after the first inning. I noticed Kling stood in front of the bench, with his chest protector on, with mitt and mask in hand, ready to resume his work. Apparently only one man was out, Johnny, who was hit by a grand slam. A Cub rally was impossible, and it is likely that Chicago knew that Bender's pitching was going to win.

The Cubs seemed to know that defeat was to be their portion after the first inning. I noticed Kling stood in front of the bench, with his chest protector on, with mitt and mask in hand, ready to resume his work. Apparently only one man was out, Johnny, who was hit by a grand slam. A Cub rally was impossible, and it is likely that Chicago knew that Bender's pitching was going to win.

The Cubs seemed to know that defeat was to be their portion after the first inning. I noticed Kling stood in front of the bench, with his chest protector on, with mitt and mask in hand, ready to resume his work. Apparently only one man was out, Johnny, who was hit by a grand slam. A Cub rally was impossible, and it is likely that Chicago knew that Bender's pitching was going to win.

The Cubs seemed to know that defeat was to be their portion after the first inning. I noticed Kling stood in front of the bench, with his chest protector on, with mitt and mask in hand, ready to resume his work. Apparently only one man was out, Johnny, who was hit by a grand slam. A Cub rally was impossible, and it is likely that Chicago knew that Bender's pitching was going to win.

The Cubs seemed to know that defeat was to be their portion after the first inning. I noticed Kling stood in front of the bench, with his chest protector on, with mitt and mask in hand, ready to resume his work. Apparently only one man was out, Johnny, who was hit by a grand slam. A Cub rally was impossible, and it is likely that Chicago knew that Bender's pitching was going to win.

The Cubs seemed to know that defeat was to be their portion after the first inning. I noticed Kling stood in front of the bench, with his chest protector on, with mitt and mask in hand, ready to resume his work. Apparently only one man was out, Johnny, who was hit by a grand slam. A Cub rally was impossible, and it is likely that Chicago knew that Bender's pitching was going to win.

The Cubs seemed to know that defeat was to be their portion after the first inning. I noticed Kling stood in front of the bench, with his chest protector on, with mitt and mask in hand, ready to resume his work. Apparently only one man was out, Johnny, who was hit by a grand slam. A Cub rally was impossible, and it is likely that Chicago knew that Bender's pitching was going to win.

The Cubs seemed to know that defeat was to be their portion after the first inning. I noticed Kling stood in front of the bench, with his chest protector on, with mitt and mask in hand, ready to resume his work. Apparently only one man was out, Johnny, who was hit by a grand slam. A Cub rally was impossible, and it is likely that Chicago knew that Bender's pitching was going to win.

The Cubs seemed to know that defeat was to be their portion after the first inning. I noticed Kling stood in front of the bench, with his chest protector on, with mitt and mask in hand, ready to resume his work. Apparently only one man was out, Johnny, who was hit by a grand slam. A Cub rally was impossible, and it is likely that Chicago knew that Bender's pitching was going to win.

The Cubs seemed to know that defeat was to be their portion after the first inning. I noticed Kling stood in front of the bench, with his chest protector on, with mitt and mask in hand, ready to resume his work. Apparently only one man was out, Johnny, who was hit by a grand slam. A Cub rally was impossible, and it is likely that Chicago knew that Bender's pitching was going to win.

The Cubs seemed to know that defeat was to be their portion after the first inning. I noticed Kling stood in front of the bench, with his chest protector on, with mitt and mask in hand, ready to resume his work. Apparently only one man was out, Johnny, who was hit by a grand slam. A Cub rally was impossible, and it is likely that Chicago knew that Bender's pitching was going to win.

PRIZES INCREASED BY JOCKEY CLUB

(Continued From Fifth Page.)

who dared to try to steal a base on Thomas, and twice he was caught at second by a quick, true throw.

The much-mooted question as to the Athletics' standing up under the strain of the championship series was settled to-day. The infield as a whole did phenomenal work, and again I cannot help but refer to the grand machine-like work of Baker, Barry and Collins.

The Cubs are going to find Mack's infield combination a stumbling block to their ambition to be the world's champions of 1910. While I have mentioned Baker, Barry and Collins particularly, the steady and effective playing of Captain Harry Davis at first must not be overlooked.

Eddie Collins is the real magnetic center of the Athletics, as he is continually stirring the players on. An example of his cunning is his constantly acquitting the outfield with the kind of ball the pitcher will serve up by a thorough code of signals.

Thomas was full of ginger throughout the game. He kept up a line of rapid fire, which in no small way encouraged Bender and the whole team. It seemed to be constantly encouraging the Cubs. Although they had been directed by Manager Chance to wait Bender out in the first part of the game, they soon found that this was disastrous because the Chief's control was superb. They sometimes took as many as two strikes, but Bender would then send that vicious curve over the plate and retire the batter.

Manager Chance was quick to perceive his mistake, and it was noticed that he gave orders to the men to hit it out. It was simply a case of "too much bender."

This game goes to show that the Athletics did not stop to think what a position they were in and get stage fright, slumping away at bad balls and making halfhearted attempts at hitting. They picked out good balls and stepped in and soured them.

Mack Springs Surprise. Coming to Mack's surprise in playing Strunk in the field, although I had picked him several weeks ago to be in the line-up at the start of the season. There has been some secret work going on in regard to the young man up for the series, and when he breaks loose he will make a big name. The Cubs will find it hard to stop him.

The fact that the Mackmen made hits and three runs in the first three innings convinced Manager Chance that it was not one of those days. He decided to send in McIntyre, who pitched side-arm spitball pitcher who pitched side-arm spitballs, and the Athletics down with one hit in the last five innings, this being a terrible drive by the star offensive player of the day, Baker. The Athletics traveled on a line, hitting the right center field wall about six inches from the top. It was a wonderful hit, and every fan present thought of it, and went into Twentieth Street for the show. McIntyre's work was finished and he showed much class. He used a good side-arm curve with a side-arm ball, combined with a peculiar delivery, which greatly aided his effectiveness.

The Cubs seemed to know that defeat was to be their portion after the first inning. I noticed Kling stood in front of the bench, with his chest protector on, with mitt and mask in hand, ready to resume his work. Apparently only one man was out, Johnny, who was hit by a grand slam. A Cub rally was impossible, and it is likely that Chicago knew that Bender's pitching was going to win.

The Cubs seemed to know that defeat was to be their portion after the first inning. I noticed Kling stood in front of the bench, with his chest protector on, with mitt and mask in hand, ready to resume his work. Apparently only one man was out, Johnny, who was hit by a grand slam. A Cub rally was impossible, and it is likely that Chicago knew that Bender's pitching was going to win.

The Cubs seemed to know that defeat was to be their portion after the first inning. I noticed Kling stood in front of the bench, with his chest protector on, with mitt and mask in hand, ready to resume his work. Apparently only one man was out, Johnny, who was hit by a grand slam. A Cub rally was impossible, and it is likely that Chicago knew that Bender's pitching was going to win.

The Cubs seemed to know that defeat was to be their portion after the first inning. I noticed Kling stood in front of the bench, with his chest protector on, with mitt and mask in hand, ready to resume his work. Apparently only one man was out, Johnny, who was hit by a grand slam. A Cub rally was impossible, and it is likely that Chicago knew that Bender's pitching was going to win.

The Cubs seemed to know that defeat was to be their portion after the first inning. I noticed Kling stood in front of the bench, with his chest protector on, with mitt and mask in hand, ready to resume his work. Apparently only one man was out, Johnny, who was hit by a grand slam. A Cub rally was impossible, and it is likely that Chicago knew that Bender's pitching was going to win.

The Cubs seemed to know that defeat was to be their portion after the first inning. I noticed Kling stood in front of the bench, with his chest protector on, with mitt and mask in hand, ready to resume his work. Apparently only one man was out, Johnny, who was hit by a grand slam. A Cub rally was impossible, and it is likely that Chicago knew that Bender's pitching was going to win.

The Cubs seemed to know that defeat was to be their portion after the first inning. I noticed Kling stood in front of the bench, with his chest protector on, with mitt and mask in hand, ready to resume his work. Apparently only one man was out, Johnny, who was hit by a grand slam. A Cub rally was impossible, and it is likely that Chicago knew that Bender's pitching was going to win.

The Cubs seemed to know that defeat was to be their portion after the first inning. I noticed Kling stood in front of the bench, with his chest protector on, with mitt and mask in hand, ready to resume his work. Apparently only one man was out, Johnny, who was hit by a grand slam. A Cub rally was impossible, and it is likely that Chicago knew that Bender's pitching was going to win.

The Cubs seemed to know that defeat was to be their portion after the first inning. I noticed Kling stood in front of the bench, with his chest protector on, with mitt and mask in hand, ready to resume his work. Apparently only one man was out, Johnny, who was hit by a grand slam. A Cub rally was impossible, and it is likely that Chicago knew that Bender's pitching was going to win.

The Cubs seemed to know that defeat was to be their portion after the first inning. I noticed Kling stood in front of the bench, with his chest protector on, with mitt and mask in hand, ready to resume his work. Apparently only one man was out, Johnny, who was hit by a grand slam. A Cub rally was impossible, and it is likely that Chicago knew that Bender's pitching was going to win.

The Cubs seemed to know that defeat was to be their portion after the first inning. I noticed Kling stood in front of the bench, with his chest protector on, with mitt and mask in hand, ready to resume his work. Apparently only one man was out, Johnny, who was hit by a grand slam. A Cub rally was impossible, and it is likely that Chicago knew that Bender's pitching was going to win.

The Cubs seemed to know that defeat was to be their portion after the first inning. I noticed Kling stood in front of the bench, with his chest protector on, with mitt and mask in hand, ready to resume his work. Apparently only one man was out, Johnny, who was hit by a grand slam. A Cub rally was impossible, and it is likely that Chicago knew that Bender's pitching was going to win.

The Cubs seemed to know that defeat was to be their portion after the first inning. I noticed Kling stood in front of the bench, with his chest protector on, with mitt and mask in hand, ready to resume his work. Apparently only one man was out, Johnny, who was hit by a grand slam. A Cub rally was impossible, and it is likely that Chicago knew that Bender's pitching was going to win.

The Cubs seemed to know that defeat was to be their portion after the first inning. I noticed Kling stood in front of the bench, with his chest protector on, with mitt and mask in hand, ready to resume his work. Apparently only one man was out, Johnny, who was hit by a grand slam. A Cub rally was impossible, and it is likely that Chicago knew that Bender's pitching was going to win.

HARRY GRIFFIN TO COACH FORK UNION

Lynchburg Pitcher Is Training Young Cadets in Rudiments of Gridiron Game.

Lynchburg, Va., October 17.—Harry Griffin, who has been a member of the Lynchburg pitching staff for two years, returned this afternoon to Fork Union, after spending a day or two with friends in the city.

Professor Griffin is engaged this year as a member of the faculty of the Fork Union Academy, and he is coaching the football eleven of the academy. The team, he says, gives great promise, and it will, he believes, give a good account of itself with other secondary schools of the State.

The baseball prospects for Fork Union, he says, are excellent, and the team in charge of the academy team next spring will make an effort to secure a game or two with the Shermakers in the ante-season exhibition games.

Griffin, who has been a member of the Lynchburg pitching staff for two years, returned this afternoon to Fork Union, after spending a day or two with friends in the city.

Griffin is engaged this year as a member of the faculty of the Fork Union Academy, and he is coaching the football eleven of the academy. The team, he says, gives great promise, and it will, he believes, give a good account of itself with other secondary schools of the State.

The baseball prospects for Fork Union, he says, are excellent, and the team in charge of the academy team next spring will make an effort to secure a game or two with the Shermakers in the ante-season exhibition games.

Griffin, who has been a member of the Lynchburg pitching staff for two years, returned this afternoon to Fork Union, after spending a day or two with friends in the city.

Griffin is engaged this year as a member of the faculty of the Fork Union Academy, and he is coaching the football eleven of the academy. The team, he says, gives great promise, and it will, he believes, give a good account of itself with other secondary schools of the State.

The baseball prospects for Fork Union, he says, are excellent, and the team in charge of the academy team next spring will make an effort to secure a game or two with the Shermakers in the ante-season exhibition games.

Griffin, who has been a member of the Lynchburg pitching staff for two years, returned this afternoon to Fork Union, after spending a day or two with friends in the city.

Griffin is engaged this year as a member of the faculty of the Fork Union Academy, and he is coaching the football eleven of the academy. The team, he says, gives great promise, and it will, he believes, give a good account of itself with other secondary schools of the State.

The baseball prospects for Fork Union, he says, are excellent, and the team in charge of the academy team next spring will make an effort to secure a game or two with the Shermakers in the ante-season exhibition games.

Griffin, who has been a member of the Lynchburg pitching staff for two years, returned this afternoon to Fork Union, after spending a day or two with friends in the city.

Griffin is engaged this year as a member of the faculty of the Fork Union Academy, and he is coaching the football eleven of the academy. The team, he says, gives great promise, and it will, he believes, give a good account of itself with other secondary schools of the State.

The baseball prospects for Fork Union, he says, are excellent, and the team in charge of the academy team next spring will make an effort to secure a game or two with the Shermakers in the ante-season exhibition games.

Griffin, who has been a member of the Lynchburg pitching staff for two years, returned this afternoon to Fork Union, after spending a day or two with friends in the city.

Griffin is engaged this year as a member of the faculty of the Fork Union Academy, and he is coaching the football eleven of the academy. The team, he says, gives great promise, and it will, he believes, give a good account of itself with other secondary schools of the State.

The baseball prospects for Fork Union, he says, are excellent, and the team in charge of the academy team next spring will make an effort to secure a game or two with the Shermakers in the ante-season exhibition games.

Griffin, who has been a member of the Lynchburg pitching staff for two years, returned this afternoon to Fork Union, after spending a day or two with friends in the city.

Griffin is engaged this year as a member of the faculty of the Fork Union Academy, and he is coaching the football eleven of the academy. The team, he says, gives great promise, and it will, he believes, give a good account of itself with other secondary schools of the State.

The baseball prospects for Fork Union, he says, are excellent, and the team in charge of the academy team next spring will make an effort to secure a game or two with the Shermakers in the ante-season exhibition games.

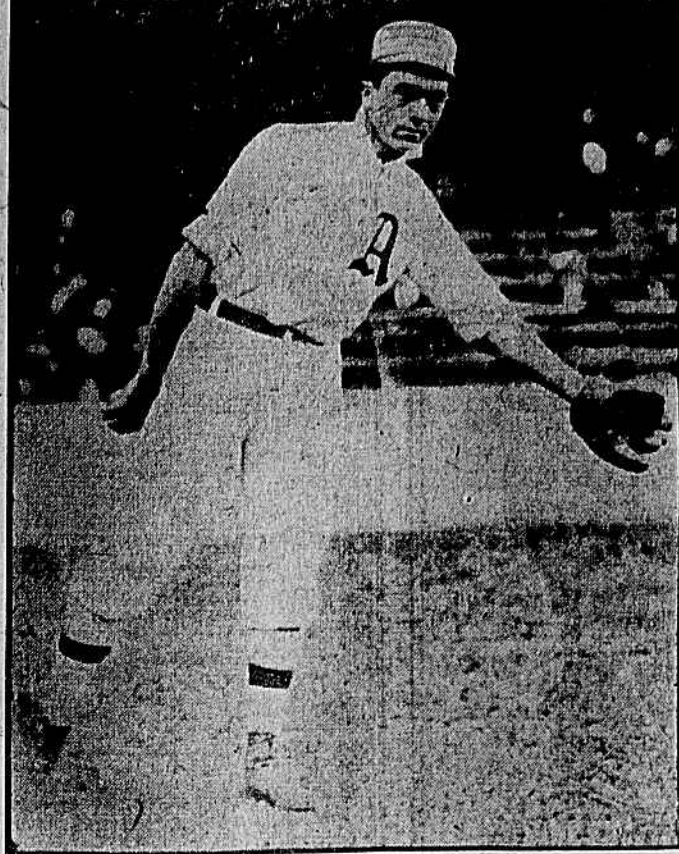

Griffin, who has been a member of the Lynchburg pitching staff for two years, returned this afternoon to Fork Union, after spending a day or two with friends in the city.

Griffin is engaged this year as a member of the faculty of the Fork Union Academy, and he is coaching the football eleven of the academy. The team, he says, gives great promise, and it will, he believes, give a good account of itself with other secondary schools of the State.

The baseball prospects for Fork Union, he says, are excellent, and the team in charge of the academy team next spring will make an effort to secure a game or two with the Shermakers in the ante-season exhibition games.

Griffin, who has been a member of the Lynchburg pitching staff for two years, returned this afternoon to Fork Union, after spending a day or two with friends in the city.

Griffin is engaged this year as a member of the faculty of the Fork Union Academy, and he is coaching the football eleven of the academy. The team, he says, gives great promise, and it will, he believes, give a good account of itself with other secondary schools of the State.

FRANK BAKER, third baseman of the Athletics, who started in yesterday's contest between the Cubs and Athletics, making three hits out of four times up. He was largely responsible for the victory of his team.

Championship Records National League (FINAL)

Clubs.	Chicago.	New York.	Pittsburgh.	Cincinnati.	St. Louis.	Philadelphia.	Brooklyn.	Boston.	Washington.	St. Paul.	Wash.	Percentage.
Chicago	14	12	14	16	15	17	104	076
New York	8	12	14	14	12	10	91	051
Pittsburgh	10	11	12	17	14	86	562
Cincinnati	8	7	11	12	10	17	78	510
St. Louis	8	10	10	15	12	17	75	487
Philadelphia	8	10	9	10	12	12	64	416
Brooklyn	10	12	10	10	10	10	63	412
Boston	5	6	8	8	10	12	53	340
Washington	5	6	8	8	10	12	53	340
St. Paul	5	6	8	8	10	12	53	340
Wash.	5	6	8	8	10	12	53	340
Percentage	50	63	67	75	79	90	90	100

Final Club Standings in the American League

Clubs.	Philadelphia.	New York.	Pittsburgh.	Cincinnati.	St. Louis.	Philadelphia.	Brooklyn.	Boston.	Washington.	St. Paul.	Wash.	Percentage.
Philadelphia	13	13	14	14	14	17	102	088
New York	8	12	14	14	12	10	91	051
Pittsburgh	10	11	12	17	14	86	562
Cincinnati	8	7	11	12	10	17	78	510
St. Louis	8	10	10	15	12	17	75	487
Philadelphia	8	10	9	10	12	12	64	416
Brooklyn	10	12	10	10	10	10	63	412
Boston	5	6	8	8	10	12	53	340
Washington	5	6	8	8	10	12	53	340
St. Paul	5	6	8	8	10	12	53	340
Wash.	5	6	8	8	10	12	53	340
Percentage	50	63	67	75	79	90	90	100

DYING, WANTS GRANDSON EDUCATED IN AMERICA

Suggestions for Rearing of Rich Chicago Lad Contained in Will of Judge Lambert Tree.

Chicago, October 17.—The will of Judge Lambert Tree, diplomat and political leader, probated here, has this provision:

"It is my earnest hope that his father will see to it that my grandson is educated in the United States, of which he is a citizen and where his pecuniary interest will be chiefly located and where his forefathers for many generations have lived and died."

This grandson, Albert Ronald Tree, is also a grandson of the late Marshall Field and a cousin of two sons of Marshall Field, Jr., who inherited $100,000 of the Field estate. Young Tree is a son of Ethel Field, now Mrs. Reilly. She was divorced from Arthur M. Tree ten years ago.

Judge Tree's estate approaches $1,000,000. His son and grandson inherit it. Many bequests were made to charity.

Injured in Baseball Game. Harrisonburg, Va., October 17.—Herbert Hawkins, of Harrisonburg, twice winner of the national championship medal in the Valley Athletic Association, has left Mercersburg Academy, Pennsylvania, and gone to Richmond to play for the Virginia team. Hawkins was struck in the eye by a baseball, and at school was unable to study.

AMERICANS TAKE FIRST OF SERIES FROM NATIONALS

(Continued From Fifth Page.)

ped to the plate, and Murphy responded with a single down the left field line, bringing home Baker with the first run.

The crowd cheered wildly as Baker crossed the home base. Hats went into the air, horns were blown, and a terrific din set in as the victory was proclaimed. Overall appeared unsteady, and on a high pitch, that Kling just managed to reach, Murphy stole second. He advanced to third on Barry's out. Thomas drew four balls and "Chief" Bender came up. The Indian who is a good hitting pitcher sent a single to center, and Murphy scored the second run. Strunk flied to Sheppard.

The Cubs went out in one, two, three order in their half of the third, but the Athletics added another run. Overall in their turn at bat. Lord opened with a two-base hit to center, went to third on Collins's sacrifice, and came home on Baker's second hit, a single to left. Davis struck out.

In the next inning Schulte got a hit on balls, and was out stealing second, to the great delight of the crowd. The other two batters were easy outs.

New Pitcher in Box. The Philadelphiaans came to bat they found a new pitcher in the box. Overall in his third inning had been touched up for six hits, for a total of eight bases. McIntyre, the new comer, showed excellent form. Murphy, the first man to face him, went out on a grounder to Tinker. Barry also fell as easy victim, and Thomas struck out. It was the first inning that the local men did not get a hit.

The fifth, sixth and seventh innings passed without anything sensational occurring. Both Bender and McIntyre were working in championship form, and not a man on either team ran second base. But in the eighth in-

BLOOD TROUBLES CONSTITUTIONAL INFECTION

Constitutional Blood Poison is the most insidious of all diseases. It begins in an insignificant manner, usually the appearance of a tiny sore being the only outward evidence of its presence. But down in the blood the treacherous infection is at work, and in a short time its chain of symptoms begin to crop out. The mouth and throat ulcerate, skin eruptions break out, sores and ulcers appear on the body, the glands in the groin swell, and sometimes the hair comes out. Mineral medicines cannot cure Constitutional Blood Poison; they only shut the disease up in the system to smolder and await an opportunity of breaking out afresh. The only possible way to cure the disease is to REMOVE the germs from the blood. S. S. S. goes into the blood, and while removing the infection makes the blood pure, fresh and healthy. This causes a general upbuilding of the entire system, and when S. S. S. has made a cure there is no return of the hideous symptoms. S. S. S. is made entirely of vegetable matter, containing not the least particle of mineral in any form. It is a perfectly safe medicine and a certain cure for blood poison. We have a Home treatment book which we will be glad to send free to all who write and request it, also any medical advice without charge. S. S. S. SPECIFIC CO., Atlanta, Ga.

Americans added another to their score. Strunk and Lord, the first two men up, failed to reach first, but Collins was given a base on balls. Collins, who is the champion base stealer of the American League, seemed to worry McIntyre as he took a long lead off first base. Twice the Chicago pitcher shot the ball to Captain Chance, to catch the feet-footed Collins, and on the second throw almost had him.

Then McIntyre tried again, and this time he threw wild, and the ball rolled to the bleachers. Collins was off in an instant, and did not stop until he reached third. He scored a moment later on Baker's hard drive to the right field wall for two bases. Davis hit to McIntyre, and was thrown out at first.

Last In Most Exciting. The ninth inning was the most exciting of the entire game. As Bender walked onto the field the crowd called on him to shut out the Nationals, but it was doomed to disappointment. Tinker, the first man up, hit to center field for a single, and took second when Strunk fumbled the ball. Kling singled and Tinker scored. With one run in, and one man on base, and no one out the crowd became anxious, but the cool Indian did not waver. Bender was sent in to bat for McIntyre, and the best he could do was to send a weak grounder to Collins, who tossed him out. Sheppard struck out amid tremendous cheering. Schulte drew his second base on balls, and then up came Hoffman, always a dangerous man at bat. With two on the bases, he sent a home run over the fence would tie the score. But Bender, still calm, tightened up, and the fast center fielder sent a grounder to Baker. The latter stepped on third, and Kane, who was running